FROM NORTH MANCHESTER.

The Indiana Ministerial Association of the Brethren church will hold its winter meeting here, beginning Dec. 26th. The program of the meeting appeared in the EVANGELIST some time ago—in June.

As pastor of the church here, I desire to say that we, as a church will make all who come at home. We are anticipating a profitable time to all. Come and see.

Brother L. W. Ditch will hold our series of meetings for us this winter, beginning January 1st. We are working for a good meeting.

Our Sunday school is building up. The monthly reports show an increase on several lines.

FROM WILLIAMSTOWN, OHIO.

DEAR BRETHREN EVANGELIST:—Not having written for some time I concluded to write a short article as some might be anxious to know something in regard to our new church. The work is still moving on, and in a few days the work will be completed. We expect to dedicate Dec. 23rd, '94, the invitation is extended throughout the Brotherhood, to all who wish to be with us at that time, provisions will be made to take care of all who come. The brethren at this place are feeling good spiritually, as a general thing, and expect a good time. We expect to hold a series of meetings beginning with dedicatory services, at the close of which we will have a communion. We expect Bro. John Duke McFaden with us at time of dedication, he and Bro. A. J. Baughman will conduct the services throughout. Come and see us and help us dedicate our house to God.

W. B. TROWBRIDGE, Cor. Sec.

READERS OF EVANGELIST:—Greeting. The work at Roanoke is still progressing. I commenced my work with the brethren here about the first of October. We opened fire at Red Hill, a mission station, where we received a hearty welcome from almost the entire community. This was our first effort at revival service but we soon felt quite at ease among this kindhearted people. Four professed Christ and three were baptized. These have been reported by Brother Moomaw. May the Lord's work continue to prosper here. Our outlook is exceedingly bright in this community. Our communion is of the past and was pleasant and we trust profitable to all. This was truly a feast for the hungry soul. Thanksgiving day has come and gone and left our larder full to overflowing. May the Lord bless the good sisters of Roanoke and vicinity for their substantial kindness. "God loveth the cheerful giver."

Our work is moving steadily onward but every foot of ground must be contested. Our morning congregations are growing, while our Sunday school, having reopened with renewed vigor, is weekly enlarging its border. May we have the prayers of the entire Brotherhood for our success here at Roanoke. I daily realize the fact that the Brethren church must establish itself in the cities if it will ever be a prominent factor for good in the world's history.

J. S. BAUMAN.

Roanoke, Va., Dec. 1st, '84.

DEAR EVANGELIST:—As I have not seen the word Claypool in your paper for a long time I will drop a few lines. According to announcement our church was dedicated Nov. 11th. Bro. Hopkins preached the dedicatory sermon. The debt was all cleared up in good shape, we have a house here while it is not stylish it is good enough for us, the actual cost being about $1200. Brother Hopkins gave us a three weeks meeting, closing Sunday evening. The second actual results of the meeting, nine accessions, six by baptism, two by relation and one reclaimed. Brother Hopkins wielded the sword fearfully and I think made our doctrine as plain as it could be made, and he left with the best of feelings toward himself also among the Clay's. And I believe that the members are all encouraged to fight the enemy harder than ever. My prayer to God is that in the years to come we may all feel that we have a work to do and do it in the right spirit and God will reward us in the end.

Yours in love,
JACOB W. SHOEMAKER.

THE LORD'S POCKET-BOOK.

"Whose pocket-book is that which you carry?" said a friend to a business man, as he drew a well filled wallet from his pocket.

Why my own, of course. Whose else could it be?" was the prompt reply.

"To whom the pocket-book belongs depends on another question. If you belong to the Lord, I guess the purse is his also."

"Well," said the man thoughtfully, "I hope I do belong to the Lord, but your remark throws a new light on this subject. It never impressed me before as it does just now, that I am to carry and use this pocket-book, 'my pocket-book,' as my Lord directs. I must think this matter out, for I confess honestly I never have looked at it in the light in which you place it."
